St. Petersburg, May 9.—In military circles the belief is prevalent that Port Arthur will be able to resist an attack six months, if necessary.

MORE DETAILS OF RECENT BATTLE

St. Petersburg, May 9.—The emperor has received a dispatch giving the report of Lieut. Gen. Zasulitch, of the Russian losses in the battle of Kiulien Cheng. Maj. Gen. Kashtalinsky was injured in the head by a stone. The brunt of the fighting was borne by the Eleventh and Twelfth rifle regiments and the Twenty-second regiment. Russian regiments were obliged to make several counter attacks and cut a way for themselves with the bayonet against the enemy, who were five times stronger than the Russians and supported by artillery.

In this terrible fight the losses in killed were four officers, including the commander of the Eleventh and 481 non-commissioned officers and men. The wounded were one officer and 801 non-commissioned officers and men and a chaplain, while 700 others were left on the field.

"Our losses on April 30 and May 1, altogether, amounted to seventy superior and subaltern officers and 32,324 men killed, wounded or taken prisoners. Of this total 1,071 were left on the battlefield, but it is not known whether they were killed or wounded."

"In consequence of the heavy losses in men and battery horses and the difficulties encountered in the roadless country it was absolutely impossible to bring away the guns and machine guns," says Gen. Zasulitch.

Harold Semoine, aged five weeks, died this morning at 605 South Third Street. The burial took place this afternoon at Oak Grove.

NEW MAN PLACED IN CHARGE TODAY

Mr. J. H. Harrison, an Expert, Running the Roller.

All City Teams Now Have Tags on Them—Board of Police Commissioners Meets Tonight.

TWO EXTRAS TO BE NAMED

A called meeting of the board of public works was held at the city hall at 10 o'clock this morning and Mr. J. H. Harrison, of Daleville, Ind., was formally placed in charge of the street roller, and will run it during the summer. Mr. Harrison arrived last night, being sent here by the factory, the Kelly Road company, of Springfield, O., and comes highly recommended.

At press time the case brought by Dr. Cooley against fiscal court to secure $130 for services in the smallpox epidemic several years ago, was on trial. Dr. Cooley was appointed by Health Officer Boyd and the court refused to pay. An appeal was taken and the case compromised.

The case of Donally Carney against Ell Gathrie will be argued this afternoon and given to the jury.

This afternoon the case of Barber Laevitan against the I. C. for $100 damages for failure to deliver some iron in time resulted in a verdict for $45 for the plaintiff.

R. H. Ward and W. D. Downs were excused as petit jurors and M. Adecock and W. A. Langston substituted.

The board today ordered the street inspector to designate what streets the roller shall work on, and how much material shall be purchased when ordered by Mr. Harrison. Full power is given to Mr. Harrison to employ all hands, teams, graders and sprinklers, necessary to carry on the work with the roller and to make requisition for necessary material.

The board of public works will Wednesday adopt a rule that hereafter the harness of every team owned or employed by the city, have attached to it a large leather tag bearing the letters in metal, "City, S. D. No. —."

These leather tags are all numbered and enable the board to keep track of every team and prevent its being used for outside work when supposed to be in use for the city. The tags were delivered today ready for use.

POLICE BOARD MEETS

The board of fire and police commissioners will meet in regular session tonight and will appoint two extra policemen to succeed Extra Officers Hill and Markey.

Officer Hill was recently promoted from first extra to regular policeman and Officer Jim Clark was put in Hill's place. Hill was again transferred to Officer Ed Clark's position as regular officer when the latter took the license inspector office, and extra Jim Clark was shoved into Officer Hill's place.

This leaves the offices of first and second extra vacant and the vacancies will be filled tonight at the meeting, it is said. Mr. Gus Rogers who is acting as extra is tipped for first extra.

It is stated that the commissioners will also urge that the ordinances for the increase to the fire department to be prepared at once, so no delays be occasioned after the two new departments have been completed.

OFFICIALS BACK

BUT NOTHING IS GIVEN OUT RELATIVE TO CHANGES IN SCHEDULE.

Mr. A. H. Egan, superintendent of the Louisville division of the I. C., has returned from Chicago where a general conference was held by the higher officials and each division superintendent, with view of arranging a new schedule for the road.

Some important changes will be made but they have not been officially given out.

M. G. WARREN'S CASE

M. G. Warren, who was given two years in the Atlanta government prison for passing counterfeit bank notes, was this morning given until May 30 in which to make settlement with his creditors and withdrew his petition in bankruptcy.

Warren was arrested and brought here pending the trial. The case came up this morning and the creditors met with the attorney for the bankrupt. Referee Bagby then ex-two sailors claiming to be off the U. S. training ship Yankee, were arrested in the local I. C. yards this morning by Special Officer Tom Murray for riding in a box car.

The sailors claim they came from Philadelphia and were en route south. They were arraigned before Police Judge Sanders this morning and fined $5 and costs for disorderly conduct in trespassing in the railroad's cars and will be held pending investigation.

This morning Chief of Police James Collins telephoned to Washington to ascertain if the men are wanted there for deserting, the local authorities suspecting that they are.

They talk little and the police have been unable to get anything definite out of them.

This morning Mr. James Crow, committee for Lucy Carson, the negro lunatic who is being kept in jail here because she can not be admitted to the Hopkinsville asylum on account of its crowded condition, secured an order from the county for clothes for the girl. She tore all her wearing apparel off, in her violent spells and it is a hard matter to keep a dress on her.

Mr. Crow received a long distance telephone message this morning that the girl could be brought there today, but the authorities would prefer that he wait until tomorrow and he decided to take her tomorrow.

Parish Jones and wife, who make Paducah their headquarters but roam about in this section considerably, were arrested in an I. C. box car Saturday night, by Officers Cross and Orr. The woman is the first ever arrested here for being in a box car and the couple gave the excuse that they had no other place to sleep. They were released by Judge Sanders.

THE DRUMMERS.

The Paducah drummers who went to Louisville to attend the state meeting of the T. P. A. have returned. There was not a large attendance outside the Louisville Post, and the interest once taken in the T. P. A. seems to have died out to considerable extent.

WILL REFUSE

Treasurer Instructed to Decline Telephone Company's License

The City Will Investigate the Matter of Franchise, Also, It Is Said.

The finance committee of the general council, has instructed the city treasurer not to accept the $100 license money from the East Tennessee Telephone company should it be presented. It seems some of the members are sore because the company took out an injunction against the city to prevent the collection of a license on poles, and will investigate the company's right to do business without a franchise. It will probably not be until after the license suit now pending is settled, however.

Nearly every administration for the past several years has investigated the same thing, and the present administration will probably find out what the others did, that the telephone company is doing business under a state grant and had a perpetual permit from the city years before such a thing as a franchise was known. The Paducah Gas company does the same thing. Neither has a franchise because each came into existence many years before the franchise law was passed, and the court of appeals has decided in a number of similar cases that such laws cannot be made retroactive.

The telephone officials claim that their suit to prevent the city from collecting the license is simply to settle the question of the city's right to assess a double license. If the license of $100 a year is legal, the one requiring a tax on each pole, cannot also be, and if the latter is legal, the $100 license is illegal. The company simply desires to know which it is liable for, believing that it cannot be required to pay a double license.

BANKRUPTCY NOTICE.

Witness the Honorable Walter Evans, judge of the said court, and the seal thereof, at Paducah, in said district, on the 6th day of May, A. D. 1904. J. R. PURYEAR, Clerk.

A compilation of the delegates so far elected to the National Democratic Convention shows them to be divided as follows: Uninstructed, 156; for Parker, 24; for Hearst, 64; for Olney, 24; for Tom L. Johnson, 2.

NOT OPENED

K. of P. Bids to Remain Sealed

Until Aug 20th.

Louisville and Other Cities Wanted

More Time to Prepare Bids.

No action was taken Saturday by the K. of P. board of control in regard to the bids for the K. of P. widows and orphans' home. None of the bids was opened, and it was decided not to open them until August 20. It is supposed this was done at the request of Louisville Pythians, who, on account of the large fund they are raising for the big conclave in August, have not been in a position to give the subscription for securing the home the desired attention.

Those present at the meeting Saturday were: W. O. Quinby, of Dayton, president of the board; T. P. Satterwhite, of Louisville, vice president;

John C. Thomasson, of Henderson, secretary; R. G. Fitch, of Winchester, treasurer; A. C. Green, of Lexington; B. P. Eubank, of Bowling Green; L. H. Davis, of Hopkinsville, and Ruby Laffoon, of Madisonville.

The competition among the cities of the state promises to be lively, and eight cities are already after the home, Louisville, Lexington, Newport, Paducah, Bowling Green, Hopkinsville, Danville and Henderson.

We have said that they will make offers, and others may enter. Men representing each city were present to speak for their city, but none was heard.

The board Saturday deposited the $12,000 now in its charge in three Louisville banks, and will draw 8 per cent. interest on it until it is used for building the home.

The telephone officials claim that their suit to prevent the city from collecting the license is simply to settle the question of the city's right to assess a double license. If the license of $100 a year is legal, the one requiring a tax on each pole, cannot also be, and if the latter is legal, the $100 license is illegal. The company simply desires to know which it is liable for, believing that it cannot be required to pay a double license.

The company simply desires to know which it is liable for, believing that it cannot be required to pay a double license.

The board Saturday deposited the $12,000 now in its charge in three Louisville banks, and will draw 8 per cent. interest on it until it is used for building the home.

The telephone officials claim that their suit to prevent the city from collecting the license is simply to settle the question of the city's right to assess a double license. If the license of $100 a year is legal, the one requiring a tax on each pole, cannot also be, and if the latter is legal, the $100 license is illegal. The company simply desires to know which it is liable for, believing that it cannot be required to pay a double license.

BEST TWO IN THREE WON BY PADUCAH

The Indians Arrived Today for a Series of Games.

Cairo Yesterday Defeated Them—
Large Crowd at Park Yesterday Afternoon.

BASEBALL NEWS OF DIAMOND

The Paducah K. I. T. league baseball team defeated the Poplar Bluff boys yesterday afternoon at Wallace park grounds by a score of 17 to 5, the game being won by superior playing and the superb pitching of Freeman, for Paducah.

The game was witnessed by several hundred spectators and started at three thirty, lasting nearly two hours.

Paducah began in the first inning by making two runs and repeating the dose again in the second inning. In the third inning five scores were tallied and two scores were netted in the fifth and sixth innings successively. In the eighth inning four scores were made, making the total of 17 scores.

Poplar Bluff made nothing until the third inning when they made four scores through a two base hit and several errors. A strong wind was blowing and the balls were hard to judge. Poplar Bluff players seemed to suffer from this more than the home boys. The other score made by the visitors was made in the fifth inning when they netted it through an error of shortstop Virgins.

The Paducah players seemed to have their singing clothes on and batted Talbot all over the field. Freeman was not easily found by the visitors.

The summary of the game briefly outlined is as follows:

A. B. R. H. P. O. A. E.
Paducah— 40 17 15 57 6 5
Poplar Bluff— 35 5 3 24 10 9

Batteries—Freeman and Land, for Paducah; Talbot and Keene, for Poplar Bluff.

Freeman struck out nine men and gave passes to none while Talbot struck out six men and walked five.

The errors made were excusable on both sides on account of a strong wind blowing.

Paducah made only 7 earned runs and Poplar Bluff but 1. Paducah had eight men left on bases while Poplar Bluff had but four.

Yesterday the Cairo K. I. T. league team defeated the Cherokee Indian team by a score of 11 to 5. The game was well attended, many going down on the Fowler from Paducah to size up the Indians.

The Indian team arrived this morning and this afternoon is playing a game with the local leagues. Brabec and Land is the battery for Paducah.

The Indians will play again tomorrow and also tomorrow night will give an exhibition of ball played under electric lights. The team carries its own electric light plant. Brady will pitch tomorrow and Freeman will be saved for the opening game of the league season Wednesday afternoon with Clarksville.

The L. A. L. baseball team defeated the Centrals yesterday morning by a score of 11 to 3. Hassman and Brabec was the battery for the L. A. L. while Dickey pitched the first six innings for the Centrals and then quit. Sutherland then went in and was pounded all over the box. Dickey held the game down to a score of 2 to 1 when he quit, the other runs being made after he went out of the box. Smith caught for the Centrals. The L. A. L. team is still the champion amateur team of the city.

Wallace, the Cairo left fielder who jumped to Vicksburg, Miss., has been sold by Cairo to that city for $150. The deal will be regularly closed when the Mississippi town sends the money. Wallace, it will be remembered, jumped from Cairo to an independent team in Louisville, and later to Vicksburg.

This morning President Sam Jackson ordered lumber on the ball grounds and the work of building the grand stand will begin immediately. During the teams trip away which will follow the three games with Clarksville the carpenters will finish

STATE LAUNDRIES

Convention at Louisville—Cities in This Section Organize.

The First Set of Officers Chosen for New Association.

Mr. E. C. Clark, of Paducah, has gone to Louisville, to attend the state Laundry association's meeting. There are no members in this part of the state, but probably soon will be.

A few days ago owners of steam laundries at Russellville, Hopkinsville, Bowling Green, Clarksville, Franklin, Guthrie and Madisonville met at Guthrie and perfected an organization. The purpose of the meeting was to take steps in the interest of the laundrymen and to formulate plans for guarding against certain irregularities that exist in the business. The organization will doubtless at some future time join the Southern association of laundrymen. The following officers were elected: W. H. Pickett, of Madisonville, president; B. E. Dorris, of Franklin, vice president; Clarence Major, of Hopkinsville, treasurer.

The Dupoysters beat the case at Paducah last fall and Bryan took an appeal to the court named above with the result as given. Gradually this famous lawsuit is coming to a close. Last week one part of it was settled by Special Judge Clarke, of Smithland and now comes the second point.

ANOTHER KNOCK OUT

AUDITORS' AGENT LUCAS LOSES BANK TAX SUITS IN CIRCUIT COURT.

Auditor's Agent Frank Lucas, of Paducah, has now also lost in the circuit court in his suits against state banks to collect taxes on deposits for five years back. The Bank of Commerce suit at Louisville, was selected as a test case, and was decided by Judge Gregory, in county court, against the Auditor's agent. Mr. Lucas took an appeal, and by agreement Judge Muir was selected to try it in circuit court, where it went from county court. Judge Muir, at Louisville, has rendered a decision sustaining Judge Gregory on every point. Mr. Lucas, it will be remembered, claimed that the banks should pay taxes on all the money deposited with them, because those to whom the money belonged sometimes did not list it for taxation.

Judge Gregory dismissed the suits, although holding that the auditor's agent had a right to bring them without the authority of the auditor. Judge Muir sustained him, and the agent will appeal to the Appellate court, where the question will be finally settled, and it is the intention to get it settled as soon as possible.

The aggregate suits in the state are for about $1,000,000 back taxes.

The mail is weighed to secure an average on which to base the compensation the railroads are to receive for the next four years for hauling it.

While no estimates are obtainable by the local officials, it is known that the mails are much heavier than when the last weighing occurred, and the railroads will receive greatly increased rates.

VINDICATION AT LAST.

Time has vindicated the wisdom displayed by the Republican council in purchasing the street roller a few years ago. This roller was once considered by the Democrats a good joke. Many people in Paducah had never seen or heard of one, and they were easily led to believe it was a monstrosity, and its purchase a piece of inexcusable extravagance. They thought the streets were intended largely for the cows, and that the roller was an interloper. After numerous futile attempts to destroy it they gently stowed it away somewhere.

Since those days, however, there has come a change. We now have a board of public works, and it is fortunately composed of men who appreciate the advantages of modern street machinery. They are not only going to use the roller, but sent to the factory for an expert to run it. Thus we find the contention of the Republican council and a lot of other public spirited men that the street roller was a good thing and should be used in street work, admitted by the Democrats themselves. Since the Republican council went out of office probably $150,000 has been spent on the streets. One hundred thousand dollars was spent during the succeeding administration, and the example has been pretty faithfully followed by the present one. If the roller had been used, doubtless fully one half would have been saved the taxpayers. If the Democrats don't believe it they can ask their own members in the board of public works.

Another thing the Republican council will eventually be praised for, is the sanitary sewerage. The members were roared by the ignorant and prejudiced for that, and the city has for seven years had this sewerage system without requiring anyone to use it. Fancy civilized people denouncing sanitary sewerage—but that is what a lot of people did in Paducah, and what some doubtless do yet. Some of these days, however, common sense will prevail in respect to the sewerage system just as it has in the case of the street roller, and Paducah will begin a new era—an era of progressiveness, good judgment, better health and rapid growth. The people will then look back and wonder how they were ever so shortsighted and stupid as to elect and tolerate such a gang of old fogies, anti-quoted, unprogressive officers as they have in many instances had for the past six or seven years.

AN ENVIALE RECORD.

Papers from San Juan, Porto Rico, tell of the opening of the United States district court there by Judge Holt, formerly of Frankfort, Ky. Judge Holt, in impaling the grand jury, proclaimed his faith in the people of Porto Rico and said that the greatest proof of their capacity for self government was the irreproachable conduct of all the jurors who had served in the federal court. The jury, he said, was one of the grand institutions of a free government, but a sad failure in any country where the sacredness of the oath was not appreciated and respected.

Judge Holt has won a place in the hearts of the people, from reports, and is one of the most popular men there as he was here, as well as one of the ablest lawyers and most eminent judges. He is a man whose services cannot well be dispensed with, and while it is rumored a fight may be made against him as is usually made against every good man at some time in his life, it is not believed by his countless friends in Kentucky that it will amount to anything. He has been in Porto Rico for several years assisting in making our federal court a tribunal of justice and fairness, and apparently he has admirably succeeded. Those who know him, and in Kentucky their name is legion, believe that no abler, more cultured or more upright man could be found for the place, and expect to hear at any time of his reappointment.

A MAN WE ALL KNOW.

The Philadelphia Saturday evening Post graphically describes an individual too frequently met in every day life. He is the man who imagines himself the exception to every rule of reform, politics, religion and good government. Says the Post:

"He is the enterprising reformer who pleads for the simple life, and pays ten dollars a plate for a banquet that would test the digestive abilities of an ostrich."

He proclaims himself the boss of the world, and keeps awake at night trying to devise means to escape the bossism of the little politicians.

He stands ready to supply liberty to all mankind, and commits the government of his great cities to a lot of men whom he would not lend a hundred dollars without collateral.

He cultivates the lowly and contrite spirit, and promptly threatens to thrash any European nation that touches the Monroe doctrine, behind which hide the little bankrupt bullies of Central and South America.

He takes pride in the fact that he is the author of "Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute," and fees everybody and keeps the grafters prosperous.

He attends mass meetings to promote the ends of justice, and stops on his way home to swear off his taxes.

The Owensboro Messenger offers $1,000 to any prominent Republican who will run against President Roosevelt. There are a lot of other Democrats who would give more than that, but the prominent Republicans are all satisfied with things as they are. President Roosevelt suits them. He suits the people. It is his popularity that arouses the resentful ire of the Democrats. If he were not a popular man, there would be plenty willing to run against him. The fact that President Roosevelt will be nominated by acclamation shows how strong and popular a man he is. Unpopular men never have such smooth sailing. Mr. Messenger. You'd better save your thousand bucks and buy the Democratic nominee a soft place to light on.

The Democrats of Kentucky are now regaling the world with another round of perennial scrapping. The chairman threatened to oust any delegation sent by certain Louisville politicians, and the latter worked the rabbit's foot and had the executive committee sit down on the chairman, and it sat pretty hard. The committee has so curtailed his powers in the coming convention, that he will hardly be even a figurehead. The Democrats should profit by the example recently set by Kentucky Republicans, and try a little harmony.

Never fear. Mr. Hearst is not going to start any paper in Paducah—probably nowhere else at present. If he should win the Democratic nomination he might. But it is now too near the time for holding the national convention. Besides, it is easier to simply send some of his numerous agents around to the Democratic papers and pay them to publish "Hearst stuff," as has already been done in a number of places.

FOOT CUT OFF

Rouster's Pedal Extremity Nipped off by a Rope at Joppa.

The Amputated Foot Fell Out Into the River and Sank From View.

An unusual accident happened aboard the Dick Fowler Saturday morning as she landed at Joppa on her down trip. Frank Stratton, colored, a rouster, of Paducah, was letting out one of the heavy lines, which was twisted around the captain. It caught in some way and wrapping around his right foot quickly drew it against the capstan and cut it off as quickly as it could have been done with an ax. The foot flew out into the river and sank, and it was with great difficulty that the flow of blood was staunched. Stratton, however, did not lose consciousness, and was taken to the marine hospital at Cairo. He lives in Paducah and is well known here.

Captain Crider, of the Fowler, stated that it was the only accident of its kind he ever knew of since he has been steamboating.

HARD BLOW

Buttoff Encounters a Gale Near Smithland.

One Stack Partly Blown Down—Damage Slight.

The steamer H. W. Buttoff, plying between Paducah and Nashville, encountered a severe wind storm last night about 9 o'clock this side of Smithland, and had to go to the dock. She was en route to Paducah from Nashville and had past Smithland but a few minutes when caught by the wind. She was whirled around and became almost unmanageable. The pilot by hard work contrived to work her into the bank and she laid there until the storm was over.

She was but slightly damaged, her smokestack having been blown out of line and one partly blown down. She was repaired before she left the wharf here this morning for Clarksville.

We Will Buy

A 50c. Bottle of Liquozone and Give it to You to Try.

Liquozone is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. It is the only way to end the cause of any germ disease. It is also a vitalizing tonic with which no other known product can compare.

It is new in America, and millions who need it don't know of it. For that reason, we make this remarkable offer. We will buy the first bottle and give it to you if you need it. We will do this gladly to let the product itself show you what it can do.

We Paid $100,000

For the American rights to Liquozone—the highest price ever paid for similar rights on any scientific discovery. We did this after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, in this country and others. We paid it because Liquozone does what all the skill in the world cannot do without it. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Every physician knows that medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease.

Not Medicine.

Liquozone is the result of a process which, for more than 20 years, has been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. Its virtues are derived solely from gas, made in large part from the best oxygen producers, by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time, these gases are made part of the liquid product.

The result is a product that does what oxygen does; and oxygen is the very source of vitality, the most essential element of life. The effects of Liquozone are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that Liquozone is vegetables; and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetable matter. That is why Liquozone kills every disease germ, and with a product which to the human body is life.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone kills the germs, wherever they are, and the results are inevitable. By destroying the cause of the trouble, it invariably ends the disease, and forever.

Especially—Erysipelas | Throat Troubles
Fever—Gall Stones | Tuberculosis
Tuberculosis | Various Diseases
Gonorrhœa—Gleet | Women's Diseases
All diseases that begin with fever—all inflammations—especially all contagious diseases—all the results of impure or poisonous bodies—In nervous debility Liquozone acts as a vitalizer, accomplishing what no drugs can do.

50c. Bottle Free.

If you need Liquozone, and have never tried it, please send us this coupon. We will then mail you an order on your local druggist for a full-size bottle, and we will pay your druggist ourselves for it. This is our free gift, made to convince you; to show you what Liquozone is, and what it can do. In justice to yourself, please accept it to-day, for it places you under no obligation whatever.

Liquozone costs 50c. and $1.

FIRE INSURANCE

It's Easier

To Cure, Than Endure Pain.

People who do house cleaning should be careful not to leave any of the numerous bottles of poison around where the children can find them. Youngsters are always inquisitive as well as hungry, and they are usually willing to sample anything. Near Owensboro the other day three children found some "rat biscuits" that had been thrown into the yard when the pantry was cleaned, and came near dying. Two were found in the yard in convulsions and it was only by the skin of their teeth that they were saved. In addition, during the excitement the coalhouse caught fire and came near destroying the entire home—all on account of the careless handling of poison during house-cleaning.

In doing this you take no risks, because they are perfectly harmless, and you will have no other evidence of having taken them than the knowledge that you are free from pain.

They relieve and cure by reinvigorating and allaying the irritation of the nerves, and by stimulating the secretions.

"People devise strange and ingenious schemes of getting in a show free," asserted Mr. Van, of the Tucker Stock company yesterday. "Out in Utah, I remember, one theater had unusually thick pass checks, those little pasteboards, you know, given to people who go out before a performance or between the acts. We discovered pretty quick that something was doing, because we found several of the checks divided. Somebody had soaked them in water, pulled them apart, leaving one side of each ticket the right color. They would thus take one check, separate it, and make two. When handed in at the door the right side was torn towards the door keeper, and he didn't think to turn it over. This is the first time I ever saw the scheme worked, and it didn't work long then, because a set of thin pass checks was immediately substituted."

something unusual, both as to the asking and to the gratitude. He expects to be here some time and to go to St. Louis from here and remain until the fair closes. One thing about his whistling is as remarkable as the whistling itself is his endurance. He whistles for hours at a time without any apparent fatigue. More than that he is cheerful and gentlemanly, and those who have to give are always glad to give to his kind, first because he does something to earn it, and second because he never asks for it and appreciates it when it is given.

"When I think of the many under-serving grafters who go about the country looking for charity," a local city official remarked Saturday as he stood on a street corner and watched Bryant merrily whistle nickels and dimes into his pockets, "it makes me skeptical. Now here is a man who has but one good arm and one good leg; he is in a much worse fix than hundreds of tramps who go about the country soliciting alms under the pretense that they cannot work. This man has gone ahead and developed his whistling powers and is making a good living. Such people are deserving and I am always glad to do what I can for them."

Bryant's neat appearance and quiet manners often lose him money, for many people dislike to offer him anything for fear it will offend him. He stood in front of a big mercantile establishment for more than an hour Saturday afternoon and for some time it was supposed he was advertising the house and not whistling for what he could earn.

Theatrical Notes.

Miss Blanche Buckner, who made such a tremendous success in "Isle of Spice," has been employed, it is understood, to take a prominent engagement in New York the coming season. Saturday's Louisville Times says:

The friends of Miss Blanche Buckner will be gratified to read the following letter from Mr. Whitney, the manager of "The Isle of Spice" company, of which Miss Buckner is a member, to Mr. J. T. Macaulay, of this city:

"I wish to thank you for the trouble you went to for Miss Buckner, as well as for myself as it was quite a relief to her mind to know that her mother was not seriously ill. She is developing remarkably fast, and a great future seems almost certain for her. She is perfectly happy in her position, and everybody is charmed and delighted with her. She was put in the prima donna role in St. Louis with only four rehearsals and I will say now that she played the part last week as well as any prima donna, and much better than some, who have been even in the part. So you see it is only a question of time when her family will be proud of her position, instead of regretting it, as they seem to now."

"The Isle of Spice" company will open an engagement of several weeks at the Globe theater, in Boston, Monday.

Mr. Abe Anspacher has received word that his nephew, Mr. Louis Kaufman Anspacher, of New York, member of the faculty of Columbia University, had completed and arranged to publish "Tristan and Isolde," a five act tragedy founded on the same legends as Wagner's opera of the same name.

The Bostonians, recently heard in Paducah in "Robin Hood," will disband this season. The name has been familiar for many years, although the company itself contains only two of the original members.

The latter part of this week or the first of next a manager for the Wallace Park theater is expected in Paducah. Mr. Kasel, who owns a chain of theaters, has the lease this year.

Kate Claxton, after twenty-five years success on the stage, closes her professional career in Louisville this week in "The Two Orphans."

GROWING ACHES AND PAINS.

Mrs. Josie Sumner, Bremond, Texas, writes, April 15, 1902: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment in my family for three years. I would not be without it in the house. I have used it on my little girl for growing pains and aches in her knees. It cured her right away. I have also used it for frost bitten feet, with good success. It is the best liniment I ever used." 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co., Paducah, Ky.

ENTERPRISE, INGENUITY AND ORIGINALITY.

Say something against Lax Fos in the presence of those who have taken it and you'll be sorry. Every person using Lax Fos will tell you an interesting story of how it cured them.

Lax Fos is the very latest example of medical enterprise, ingenuity and originality. Those who have been sick, and others, say, Lax Fos is the best, medicine made. To make it a little better than any other remedy even though it cost more is an investment and not an expense to the S. H. Winstead Medicine Co. No advertisement is equal to having people say Lax Fos is the best. To succeed in any business give the consumer more than you promise. That's done in Lax Fos. It cures indigestion, constipation, kidney and liver trouble. Its good effects are felt at once. Take no substitute. The genuine is sold on the money back plan by druggists everywhere.

ALDERMEN DAVIS INSPECTS STREETS

Vastly Pleased With Nashville's Fire Throughfares.

Paducah Board of Public Works May Investigate the Bitulithic Material.

NASHVILLE INVITES A VISIT

Alderman G. R. Davis, and Director-General L. A. Lagomarsino, of the carnival, returned yesterday from Nashville, where in addition to conferring with the general manager of the C. and St. L. railroad and using their influence in having the company transport the carnival company from Paducah to Chattanooga, they inspected the streets in Nashville. They were well pleased with the result of their efforts in both cases.

They were taken by city officials all over Nashville in an automobile and were shown principally the bitulithic streets. Alderman Davis thinks that this is the coming material for streets.

"The foundation is of crushed limestone and other compositions rolled, no concrete being used, and the paving proper is of crushed limestone and some other material. It is as smooth and noiseless as asphalt, and so hard that when the street car company wanted to widen its tracks and attempted to cut a small groove to slide the tracks over it, it could not be done with a pick, but necessitated the use of a sledge hammer and chisel such as are used in cutting steel.

"We saw streets that were constructed of this material three years ago, and on which the heaviest hauling in Nashville is done that leading to the railroad freight houses, and there was no perceptible wear anywhere.

"In fact, it is the best material I ever saw, and costs only from $1.35 to $1.50, here we are now paying over $2 for brick streets in Paducah."

Alderman Davis brought home with him an invitation to the Paducah board of public works, alderman and councilmen to come to Nashville at any time and inspect the streets and all expenses will be paid by the company that makes the material. Nashville has her own mixing plant at present, and thus saves a great deal of cost.

The invitation will probably be formally extended to the local officials at the next meeting of the boards. In addition, the Nashville men will at once begin corresponding with the local board of public works and invite an investigation of the material.

Another good feature of the bitulithic street is that a block a week can be constructed if the weather is good. Seven blocks were recently built in Nashville between January and March, although there was much bad weather.

GOOD SPIRITS.

Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the liver—and all the fine spirits ever made in the Blue Grass state could not remedy a bad liver or the hundred and one ill effects it produces. You can't have good spirits and a bad liver at the same time. Your liver must be in fine condition if you would feel buoyant, happy and hopeful, bright of eye, light of step, vigorous and successful in your pursuits. You can put your liver in fine condition by using Green's August Flower—the greatest of all medicines for the liver and stomach and a certain cure for dyspepsia or indigestion. It has been a favorite household remedy for over 35 years. August Flower will make your liver healthy and active and thus insure you a liberal supply of "good spirits." Trial size, 25c; regular bottles, 75c. For sale by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

HERBINE.

Will overcome indigestion and dyspepsia; regulate the bowels and cure liver and kidney complaints. It is the best blood enlivener and invigorator in the world. It is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and should you be a sufferer from disease, you will use it if you are wise.

R. N. Andrews, Editor and Mgr. Cocoa and Rockledge News, Cocoa, Fla., writes: 'I have used your herbine in my family, and find it a most excellent medicine. Its effects upon myself have been a marked benefit. I recommend it unhesitatingly.'

50c. Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co., Paducah, Ky.

The President has re-nominated Col. A. L. Mills for a brigadier generalship.

The photograph of the finger marks out sacrificing certain necessary points, and the coroner went relentlessly to work.

"How long have you been in this house?"

"Three weeks—ever since Mrs. Jeffrey's wedding day, sir."

"Were you there when she first came as a bride from the Moore house?"

"I was, sir."

"And saw her then for the first time?"

"Yes, sir."

"How did she look and act that first day?"

"I thought her the gayest bride I had ever seen, then I thought her the saddest, and then I did not know what to think. She was so merry one minute and so frightened the next, so full of talk when she came running up the steps and so struck with silence the minute she got into the parlor; that I set her down as a queer one till some one whispered in my ear that she was suffering from a dreadful shock—that her luck had attended her marriage and much more about what had happened from time to time at the Moore house."

"And you believed what was told you?"

"Believed?"

"Believed it well enough to keep a watch on your young mistress to see if she were happy or not?"

"Oh, sir!"

"It was but natural," the coroner snarled, "that the coroner would notice that Francis Jeffrey did not bring out any sign of feeling or even of attachment. The coroner, embarrassed, perhaps, by this exhibition of silent misery so near him, hesitated a little before he put his next question. Loretta, on the contrary, had gathered courage with every word she spoke and now looked ready for anything."

"It was Mrs. Jeffrey, then, who clung most determinedly to her sister?" the coroner finally suggested.

"I have told you what she said."

"Yet these sisters spent but little time together?"

"Very little; as little as two persons could who lived together in one house."

This statement, so different from what we were expecting, caused a sensation in the room and consequently a stir. As the noise of shifting feet and moving heads began to be heard in all directions, Miss Tuttle's head drooped a little, but Francis Jeffrey did not betray any sign of feeling or even of attachment. The coroner, embarrassed, perhaps, by this exhibition of silent misery so near him, hesitated a little before he put his next question. Loretta, on the contrary, had gathered courage with every word she spoke and now looked ready for anything.

"It was Mrs. Jeffrey, then, who clung most determinedly to her sister?" the coroner finally suggested.

"I have told you what she said."

"Yet these sisters spent but little time together?"

"Very little; as little as two persons could who lived together in one house."

This statement, which seemed such a contradiction to her former one, increased the interest, and much disappointment was overtaken off from this topic and abruptly inquiries:

"Did you ever know Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey to have any open rupture?"

The answer was a decided one.

"Yes. Just with her sister, sir."

The defiance with which this was said added point to what otherwise might have been an unimportant admission.

"You refer to Miss Tuttle?" observed the coroner.

"Mrs. Jeffrey's sister? Yes, sir."

The menace was gone from the voice now, but no one could forget that it had been there.

"Miss Tuttle lived in the house with her sister, did she not?"

"Yes, sir, till that sister died and was buried; then she went away."

The coroner did not pursue this topic, preferring to return to the former one.

"So you say that Mrs. Jeffrey showed uneasiness ever since her wedding day. Can you give me any instance of this—mention, I mean, any conversation overheard by you which would show us just what you mean?"

"I don't like to repeat things I hear, but if you say that I must I can remember, once passing Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey in the hall just as he was saying: 'You take it too much to heart! I expected a happy honeymoon. Something we have failed!' That was all I heard, sir. But what made me remember his words was that she was dressed for some afternoon reception and looked so charming and so—and so, as if she ought to be happier."

"Just so. Now, when was this? How long before her death?"

"Oh, a week or so. It was very soon after the wedding day."

"And did matters seem to improve after that? Did she appear any better satisfied or more composed?"

"I think she endeavored to, but there was something on her mind, something which she tried to laugh off, something that annoyed Mr. Jeffrey and worried Miss Tuttle, something which caused a cloud in the house for all the dances and dinners and goings and comings. I am sorry to speak of it, but it was so."

"Something that showed an unsettled mind?"

"Almost. The glitter in her eye was not natural; neither was the way she looked at her sister and sometimes at her husband."

"Did she talk much about the catastrophe which attended her wedding? Did her mind seem to run on that?"

"Incessantly at first; but afterward not so much. I think Mr. Jeffrey frowned on that subject."

"Did he ever frown on her?"

"No, sir—not—not when they were sime or with no one by but me. He seemed to love her then very much."

"What do you mean by that, Loretta; that he lost patience with her when other people were present—Miss Tuttle, for instance?"

"Yes, sir. He used to change very much when—when—when Miss Tuttle came into the room upstairs where they used to sit."

"Change toward his wife?"

"Yes, sir."

"How?"

"He grew more distant, much more distant; got up quite fretfully from his seat, if he were sitting beside her, and took up some book or paper."

"And Miss Tuttle?"

"She never seemed to notice, but—"

"But?"

"She did not come in very often after this had happened once or twice—I mean into the room upstairs where they used to sit."

"Loretta, I regret to put this question, but after your replies I owe it to the jury, if not to the parties themselves, to make Miss Tuttle's position in this household thoroughly understood. Do you think she was a welcome visitor in this house?"

"I can only repeat what I once heard said about this by Mr. Jeffrey himself. Miss Tuttle had just left the dining room and Mrs. Jeffrey was standing in one of her black moods, with her hand on the top of her chair, ready to go, but forgetting to do so. I was there, but neither of them noticed me; he was staring at her, and she was looking down. Neither seemed at ease. Suddenly he spoke and asked, 'Why must Cora remain with us?' She started and her look grew strange and frightened. 'Because I want her to,' she cried. 'I cannot live without Cora.'"

These words, so different from what we were expecting, caused a sensation in the room and consequently a stir. As the noise of shifting feet and moving heads began to be heard in all directions, Miss Tuttle's head drooped a little, but Francis Jeffrey did not betray any sign of feeling or even of attachment.

The coroner, embarrassed, perhaps, by this exhibition of silent misery so near him, hesitated a little before he put his next question. Loretta, on the contrary, had gathered courage with every word she spoke and now looked ready for anything.

The girl, with a renewed flush, cast a deprecating look at the mass of faces before her, and, meeting on all sides one look of intense and growing interest, drew up her neat figure with a relieved air and began a story which I will proceed to transcribe for you in the fewest possible words.

SPECIAL TRAIN

THAT ONLY IS MEANT IN THIS WASHINGTON DISPATCH.

A Washington dispatch of yesterday says that there will this year be available only about 30 per cent. of the 70 per cent. allowance made last year for additional clerk hire and promotions in Kentucky Presidential post offices. This means that there will be much less this year for extra help than last but it will in no way affect present conditions in any of the post offices.

Yours truly,

Charley

When Charles Lamb Said Grace. Recently, when Edmund Clarence Stedman was visiting in New England, he was called upon by the head of the house while at dinner to invoke the divine blessing.

"I was rather surprised, and for half a minute sorely tempted," said Mr. Stedman in relating the incident. "Then I rose to the occasion and asked a grace which I remembered."

"But, Mr. Stedman," demanded a young woman of the party eagerly, "to what were you sorely tempted?"

"To do as Charles Lamb did under similar circumstances."

"And that was?"

"He looked about the board and asked in his surprise: 'Is there no clergyman present?' The host shook his head. Then Lamb prayed: 'For this and all other mercies, O Lord, make us truly thankful!'"—New York Times.

A Personal Matter.

"I think I am giving general satisfaction," said the young clergyman a little doubtfully, "although Elder Wilkins has found a good deal of fault with my prayers." "You are sure to have that trouble," responded the retired pastor with a reminiscent sigh. "The elder is a good man, a most worthy man. But he never can remember that he is not the party addressed in prayer."

Cause for Mirth.

"Mary," said a Pine street lady to her cook the other morning, "I must insist that you keep better hours and that you have less company in the kitchen at night. Last night you kept me from sleeping because of the uproarious laughter of one of your women friends." "Yes, mum, I know, but she couldn't help it. I was tellin' my lady friend how you tried to make cake one day!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Burglar Balks at Jewels.

Though not taking all the money he could find, a burglar who broke into a woman's house in Paris left a note saying he could not find it in his heart to take her jewels lest they were heirlooms.

MORTUARY RECORD

MR. ISAAC SCHOONMAKER DIES IN NEW YORK—OTHER DEATHS.

Mr. Schoonmaker was 85 years of age. He was well known in Paducah where he has frequently visited his daughter. Mrs. Du Bois went to New York about a week ago and was with her father when he died. He had many friends in Paducah, who will regret his death.

THE D—FOOL VOTE.

How Champ Clark Won Precinct by Daring Rejoinder.

Congressman Champ Clark usually manages to take pretty good care of himself, whatever the circumstances. During one of his campaigns in Missouri he struck an exceptionally hostile neighborhood. He had been subjected to several interruptions, and finally a burly fellow strode down to the front of the platform and said:

"Say, you're a d— fool, and everybody here knows it!"

Clark's face actually became radiant at this announcement. He leaned over, and before the bewildered spectator who had hurled the epithet could think, seized his hand and wrung it warmly. Then, facing his audience squarely, said:

"The remark of my friend here has given me renewed encouragement. If before I had any shadow of doubt as to my success, he has dispelled it, for if I poll the full d— fool vote of this precinct, I will be elected by a rousing majority."

Clark afterward said he knew he was taking long chances. But the audience went wild over the rejoinder, and the Congressman really did carry the precinct when election day rolled around.—Baltimore Herald.

The Meaning of "Carat."

The value of a diamond is calculated on its weight, which is estimated by what are called "carats," originally an Indian weight. Four grains go to the "carat," the value of which varies slightly in different countries, and formerly the rule was that the value of the stone increased with the square of the weight in carats. This, however, is rather out-of-date, and the value is now governed by the beauties of the particular stone, so that it is practically impossible, especially with "specimen stones," to give any fixed rule.
